HOLY LAND FARMS CELEBRATES CHAPEL RIBBON CUTTING

Holy Land Farms reached another exciting milestone on June 5 as community members, supporters, volunteers, and local leaders gathered to celebrate the official ribbon cutting of the Chapel.

Hosted in partnership with the Berrien, Tift, and Irwin County Chambers of Commerce, the ceremony marked far more than the completion of a building—it celebrated God's faithfulness and the vision He has continued to unfold at Holy Land Farms.

The Chapel serves as a place of prayer, worship, reflection, and fellowship for visitors from across the region. Designed to be a peaceful retreat where people can step away from the busyness of everyday life, it stands as another reminder of the mission of Holy Land Farms: creating a place where people can encounter Jesus.

The celebration brought together board members, donors, volunteers, elected officials, chamber representatives, and friends who have faithfully supported the ministry from the beginning. Their presence reflected the incredible community that has come alongside Holy Land Farms, helping transform what was once simply a vision into a place where lives are being changed.

While the ribbon cutting celebrated an important achievement, it also served as a reminder that the work is far from finished. With future projects already in development, Holy Land Farms remains committed to expanding its ministry and creating even more opportunities to share the Gospel with people of all ages.

Celebrating the Hope of Easter at Holy Land Farms

As the sun began to set over Holy Land Farms on Easter weekend, hundreds of people gathered beneath the shadow of the cross to celebrate the greatest victory in history—the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

Our Easter Sunset Service was a beautiful reminder that the tomb is still empty and our Savior is still alive.

Families, friends, and visitors from across South Georgia came together for an evening of worship, prayer, and Biblical teaching as we reflected on the sacrifice Christ made for us and the hope we have because He conquered sin and death. Seeing people of all ages worshiping together on the hillside overlooking the cross was a powerful reminder of why Holy Land Farms exists: to be a place where people encounter Jesus and are encouraged in their walk with Him.

Events like this are only possible because of the generosity of our volunteers, ministry partners, and supporters who faithfully give of their time, talents, and resources. From parking attendants and greeters to those who helped prepare the grounds and welcome guests, every act of service played a part in making the evening a blessing to so many.

One of the greatest joys of the night was watching our community gather in unity to proclaim the hope of the Gospel. In a world searching for answers, the message of Easter remains unchanged: Jesus is alive, and through Him there is forgiveness, redemption, and eternal life for all who believe.

As we continue to develop Holy Land Farms into a place of worship, discipleship, and community, we pray that the message shared on Easter continues to resonate throughout the year. Our hope is that every person who visits this property leaves knowing they are loved by God and invited into a relationship with Jesus Christ.

He is risen indeed!

INTRODUCING JENNIFER METZGER:

A New Voice for Season 2 of Monday Morning Manna

Holy Land Farms is excited to welcome Jennifer Metzger as the new co-host of Season 2 of Monday Morning Manna, joining Jason Womack as they continue sharing conversations that point people to the hope found in Jesus Christ.

Jennifer serves as the Executive Director of LIFEhouse Parenting Center & Clinic, where she has faithfully ministered to countless women and families. Her passion for the podcast is rooted in a simple but powerful philosophy: "Let's go there." Whether discussing life's greatest joys or its deepest struggles, Jennifer believes that bringing difficult conversations into the light is where true healing and freedom begin. Throughout this season, listeners can expect honest discussions, powerful testimonies, and encouraging stories that reveal God's unconditional grace and faithfulness.

Jennifer's heart for ministry was shaped through her own journey. When God called her to volunteer at the Pregnancy Care Center in 2014, she never imagined that opportunity would one day lead her to serve as Executive Director. As a single mother at the time, she understood firsthand the uncertainty and challenges many women face. Rather than allowing her pain to define her, she chose to let God use it for His glory, believing her testimony could offer hope to others facing unexpected pregnancies and difficult decisions.

That same message of hope is at the heart of Monday Morning Manna. Each episode is designed to encourage listeners with authentic conversations and life-changing testimonies that remind us God is still writing redemption stories every day.

We invite you to join Jason and Jennifer for Season 2 of Monday Morning Manna as they seek to encourage hearts, strengthen faith, and share stories that remind us all that God's grace is greater than our greatest struggles.

A SPECIAL NOTE OF THANKS

There are moments when words simply don't feel big enough.

To every person who has visited Holy Land Farms...thank you.

Over the past months, we've watched this place become so much more than a piece of property. We've seen breathtaking photos captured beneath the cross, baptisms that marked new life in Christ, families celebrating milestones, friends gathering in fellowship, quiet moments of prayer, and countless people spending time alone with the Lord.

Every story shared, every prayer lifted, every life touched reminds us why God placed this vision on our hearts. We are truly humbled by the way our community has embraced Holy Land Farms. Your support, encouragement, prayers, volunteer hours, and generosity have helped us faithfully steward what God has entrusted to us. This ministry belongs to Him, and it has been a privilege to watch Him use it in ways we could have never imagined.

Thank you for being part of this journey. Thank you for helping make Holy Land Farms a place where people can encounter the peace, beauty, and presence of God.

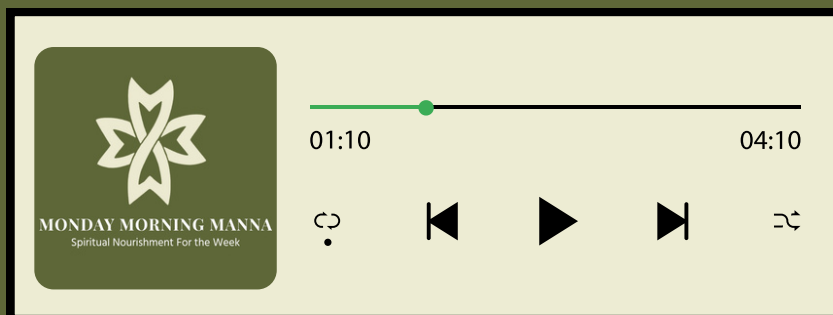

We can't wait to see all that the Lord has in store.
